

Second Edition!

More plant species, more photos, and updated information enhance this second edition, resulting in a guide book that's invaluable for central Florida gardeners who want water-thrifty, easy-to-care-for landscapes. It tells how to identify, where to use, and how to care for 46 species of native trees, shrubs, groundcovers and vines. For each, blooming and fruiting times, mature size, wildlife value, ethno botanical uses and other vital information is given.

Use this book to help you choose Florida native plants for your landscape—it's a great way to celebrate our state's environmental heritage, provide food and cover for wild creatures, and conserve our natural resources!

Size: 6" x 9"

Pages: 128, color photographs, plant charts, index, bibliography

Retail price: $18.00 per copy, includes tax and shipping

FNPS Members: $13.00 per copy, includes tax and shipping

To order, cut out and mail the order form to the address below.

For wholesale information, please contact the Great Outdoors Publishing Company at www.FloridaBooks.com.

The new edition of The Right Plants for Dry Places, like it's predecessor, is an excellent resource for those whose gardens lie in those extremely well-drained areas that were once home to sandhill, scrub or dune communities. All of the plants included have their origins in these dry communities in Florida, but many are tolerant of some moisture, and the moisture requirements and tolerance of every plant is noted. A half dozen species have been added to this edition, with the same useful information about cultural requirements and suggestions for companion plants. This is an essential reference book for native plant gardeners in Florida!

- Harriett Wright, President, Florida Native Plant Society Suncoast Chapter

✂

Name: _____

Address: _____

City: _____ State: _____ Zip: _____

County: _____ Telephone: (____) _____ - _____

Email Address: _____

Send a personal check to: Suncoast Chapter of FNPS Member ID # _____
 P.O. Box 1158 (if claiming discount...)
 Seffner, FL 33583-1158

